Continue Efforts To Avert Renewal Of Rail Strike

Negotiations In Railroad Truce Still In Progress

Reports Vary As To Actual Situation In Effort To Avert Strike Renewal

REPORT SITUATION IS "STILL HOPEFUL"

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—The rail and coal strike situations were described as "hopeful" today following a conference of President Truman and his congressional advisers.

Leaving the White House, Sen. Alben Barkley (D) Ky., senate leader, said the strike situations are "hopeful."

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—A railroad spokesman today described truce negotiations in the postponed rail strike as "still wide open" despite announcement by the brotherhoods that government mediators were presenting a "new proposition" to the carriers.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen made the disclosure that his brotherhood and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers made a new proposition. He declined to reveal its details.

The carriers' spokesman dismissed this statement by Whitney as "pretty much of a myth," but asked that he not be named as saying so. He added:

Situation Hopeful
"Dr. Steelman (hospital labor advisor) has said that very little if any progress has been made and that is a pretty fair statement, although the situation is still hopeful."

This development came atop a wealth of reports of progress and lack of progress on both sides in the government-guided negotiations aimed toward settlement before expiration of the truce at 4 p. m. EST Thursday.

Steelmen apparently concentrated upon the brotherhoods' representatives in his mediation efforts Monday, although he was reported to be in frequent communication by telephone with the railroads' bargaining.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Fed by heavy rains during the night, streams and rivers passing through the city were high and rampant today. Much debris and driftwood was noted racing down the Neshannock and Shenango.

Polls in today's primary election do not close until nine o'clock daylight time tonight, so that there is still time to get to the precinct voting place and cast a ballot if you have not as yet voted.

City street department employees were quite active in the Croton avenue district, Monday afternoon, Pa. News noted, scraping and rolling the dirt streets of the area in preparation for the summer traffic.

The old-fashioned "yo-yo" which was quite an attraction for the younger boys and girls of the city has come back into its own, Pa. News notes. A number of quite grown young men were seen going down East Washington, Monday afternoon manipulating the little toy, much to the amusement of many passersby.

River stage, 8.5 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:
Maximum temperature, 64.
Minimum temperature, 35.
Precipitation, .01 inches.

Byrnes Places U.S. Case Before World In Parley Report

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—Secretary of State Byrnes' blunt report on the ill-fated "Big Four" peace meeting in Paris left no doubt today that he is willing to lay the United States case before world opinion with full expectation of a favorable judgment of his position.

So strongly did Byrnes make his case in what he frankly proclaimed the opening gun in an "offensive for peace" that many listeners overlooked the revelation that he also planned an international pact for the 25-year control of Japan similar to that proposed for Germany.

The key to the U. S. foreign policy plan was contained in one outstandingly significant paragraph in Byrnes' radio report which held Russia largely responsible for failure of the Paris meeting. He said:

Expects Peace Conference Call
"If a peace conference is not called this summer, the United States will feel obligated to request

Expect Action To Prevent Further Mine Shut Downs

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—Soft coal operators were hopeful today that any government-negotiated contract with John L. Lewis will sharply reduce the size of the miner's welfare fund proposal and deny exclusive union control of such a fund.

Government seizure of the mines is anticipated this week to prevent another shutdown when the two-week strike truce expires Saturday. The government is expected to negotiate a contract for the period of seizure which would have to be accepted by the operators before the mines were released.

Administration experts have given no indication thus far as to what (Continued on Page Two)

Nationalist Troops In China Reported Pushing Forward

SHANGHAI, May 21.—(INS)—Nationalist troops pushed forward today in a five-pronged thrust aimed at Kunming, communist-held stronghold barring the path northward to Changchun, capital of Manchuria.

Latest reports said the nationalists were on the outskirts of Kunming.

Further nationalist successes were claimed east of Shanhsikuan, where government troops joined other forces advancing from Chinchow.

Central government officials charged that 4100 Japanese are either leading communist bands or are participating in the fighting in four widely separated groups of communist troops in northern China.

Central News Agency reported the northward offensive by government troops was the beginning of the actual drive on Chanchun, seized by the communists last month when Russian troops evacuated.

President Will Fly To Conference Of Governors Monday

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—The White House announced today that President Truman will fly to Oklahoma City next Monday to address the opening session of the governor's conference.

He will speak to the conference at 1 p. m. (EST) leaving immediately thereafter by plane for Kansas City.

The President will remain overnight in Kansas City, leaving early Tuesday morning for the return flight to Washington. He has asked his 93-year-old mother, his brother Vivian, and sister, Mary, to come back with him to attend his daughter Margaret's graduation exercises in Washington the following week-end.

It is not certain yet whether his mother, who has been ill, will be able to attend.

FIRST SUMMER WORK STARTS SOON

James Gibson, director of public improvements and John Street, city engineer, today reported that Kelly & Meyers have placed their equipment at State street. The hill is to be resurfaced. The firm is the first to come here to do improvement work which will occur during the summer.

The move was made in accordance with Mayor William O'Dwyer's request that all eating places in New York stop serving wheat products on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights to help feed famine-stricken countries.

Substitutes for bread will be served when the patron demands them.

Chief Election Day Contests In G.O.P. Primary

Statewide Primaries Are Under Way—Forecasts Are For Light Vote

DEMOCRATS ARE LARGELY UNOPPOSED

HARRISBURG, May 21.—(INS)—Interest focused on the Republican primary election today and the insurgent new guard's battle to defeat the regular organization's candidates for governor and secretary of internal affairs.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. DST.

Should former highways secretary, John U. Shroyer, of Shamokin, gubernatorial hopeful, and ex-Harrisburg councilman, J. Calvin Frank, overturn their opponents it would be the first time the regular slate was broken since ex-Gov. Pinchot died in 1930.

Turnout May Be Light
A light turnout was expected to hurt Shroyer's chances because most of the voters could be expected to be organization-minded.

The State Elections Bureau has reported that 2,568,178 Republicans and 1,753,879 Democrats will be eligible to vote. Leaders of both parties (Continued on Page Two)

Giant Submarines Will Be Keynote Of Future Navy

No One Can Tell For Sure What Navy Will Look Like In Ten Years Time

BOSTON, May 21.—(INS)—Giant submarines operating at top speeds for tremendous distances will be a key weapon in the American Navy as it harnesses atomic energy to power the fleet within the next 10 years.

This was the prediction today of Rear Admiral Harold G. Bowen, chief of the Navy Office of Research and Inventions, who addressed 500 at the joint council of international cooperation at the Hotel Bradford.

Unpredictable Navy
"No one can predict what a navy will look like 10 years from now," he said. "But we shall make every attempt to produce as rapidly as possible a navy in which full consideration has been given to the possibilities of atomic energy, jet propulsion, gas turbines, guided missiles and pilotless aircraft."

"Since oxygen, or oxygen-bearing fuel, no longer will be required, we will be able to realize submerged speeds and submerged radii of action which will put the submarine in a class by itself and make it a major combat unit. Its development into a much larger vessel is clearly indicated."

The admiral pointed out that sea-going ships would not be driven like rocket craft, but would still operate under steam, provided by "heat from atomic fission."

REPORT FRANK TO BE EXECUTED

LONDON, May 21.—(INS)—Reuters reported from Prague today that Karl Hermann Frank, former "protector" of Bohemia-Moravia, had been sentenced to death by the court which tried him on ten war crimes charges, including responsibility for the Lidice massacre.

The report said the court ordered Frank to be publicly hanged.

TWO SHARP QUAKES ON FORDHAM NEEDLE

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Two sharp earthquakes centered in the Caribbean area were recorded today on the Fordham University seismograph.

The first shock came at 5:22:36 a. m. EDT, the second at 5:27:22. The distance was 1,000 miles from New York in a southerly direction.

Hoover Says Russia Could Furnish Aid To Starving Nations

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today that Russia could furnish one million tons of food products to relieve starvation in Europe and the Far East.

Hoover, honorary chairman of President Truman's Famine Emergency committee, made this assertion exclusively to International News Service.

The world-famous food expert, who came out of semi-retirement to battle postwar starvation as he did 28 years ago, said that the Soviet Union could supply about 500,000 tons of cereals to Poland, Finland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, representing half the burden of those countries.

Also, Hoover maintained, Russia could send another 500,000 tons of cereals to the Chinese and Koreans.

To date, Russia has declined to participate in the United Nations food and agriculture organization's program of long-range planning to fight famine in the world.

Five Die As Army Plane Crashes New York Skyscraper

Five Are Killed As Plane Crashes Into Skyscraper

Army Plane Strikes 58th Floor Of Building In Wall Street, New York

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Army and city authorities opened an exhaustive investigation today into the crash of a two-engine army plane into the 58th floor of a Manhattan skyscraper, killing all five occupants of the aircraft.

As in the case of the much larger B-25 bomber which smashed into the Empire State building last summer, taking 14 lives, fog was the primary cause of last night's tragedy.

Condition Of Woman Critical

Mrs. Critchlow, Shot In Double Tragedy, Monday, Says Her Wounds Accidental

In a statement to District Attorney Leroy K. Donaldson, Mrs. Mae M. Critchlow said she had been shot accidentally when a gun in the hands of William Eardley exploded, hitting her in the abdomen.

Mrs. Critchlow is in the Jameson Memorial hospital in critical condition. Eardley is dead, the victim of his own hand, Mrs. Critchlow told the district attorney.

The woman's statement was similar to the one secured by the police earlier on Monday but with a little more detail. Mrs. Critchlow said she and Mr. Eardley had planned to get married if a divorce action pending in the courts of Lawrence county gave him his freedom.

She denied that Eardley had shot her intentionally and said that she believed he was so horror stricken when he saw she had been shot that he had turned the gun upon himself. She denied there had been any argument or fight, according to the district attorney.

Nazis Laughed At Dying Americans

DACHAU, May 21.—(INS)—Virgil Lary, former U. S. lieutenant, testified today at the war crimes trial of 24 Nazi officers and troops that they German soldiers laughed as they machine-gunned unarmed American war-prisoners in a field near Malmédy in December, 1944.

The Nazis are being tried for the so-called "Malmédy massacre" which was employed as a last resort during the ill-fated German Ardennes offensive.

Late Afternoon Rush May Bring Vote Totals Up

Daylight Time May Be Factor In Small Vote Cast During Morning

POLLS WILL CLOSE AT NINE O'CLOCK

At noon today the voters of Lawrence County had been staying away from the polls in hordes. The vote cast at noon was even lighter than had been anticipated and unless a rush is seen in the late afternoon and early evening hours, the vote may not reach 30 per cent.

The story was the same over the city and the county. The later opening hour, 8 o'clock daylight savings time, may have had something to do with the light vote as men on their way to work were not able to vote. It also may have been that the lethargy apparent in the campaign was showing itself in the light vote.

Workers Man Polls
There seems to be no lack of workers at the polls. At many of the polls there are eight and ten workers standing around. The motor corps will swing into action this afternoon and the work of hauling voters to the polls will start.

Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree are in the court house today awaiting any election arguments that may ensue. Judge Braham took the early shift and Judge Lamoree will be in the court house until after the polls close to take action should any disputes arise.

A few polls were short clerks this morning but they were secured in time to get the voting under way without any appreciable delay. The polls will remain open until 9 o'clock daylight savings time today after which the count will be made and the ballot boxes returned to the court house.

It looks like an easy day for the election boards. The ballot is not a lengthy one and the voting is light.

George F. Mitchell Overcome At Work

Engineer At Post Office Has Harrowing Experience When Trapped In Pilaster

George F. Mitchell, engineer at the U. S. post office here, who went through five years of warfare unscathed, had a harrowing experience this morning, which might have resulted seriously when he was overcome by foul air at the bottom of a hollow pilaster in which he was working. It was necessary to tear out the wall at the bottom of the shaft to extricate him.

Mr. Mitchell was lowered into the shaft to make repairs to a leaking water pipe, which with the electric conduits, is contained in the pilaster, one of several which support the second floor of the post office building, when he discovered that the air at the bottom was bad. He called out to the workmen above that he was passing out and asked them to help him.

Finding it impossible to raise him to the top of the shaft, they procured a sledge hammer and battered their way through the wall at the bottom, extricating him. Mitchell was all right in a short time after he was brought out into fresh air.

News Briefs

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—A quarter of a million dollars was allocated today for famine relief in Europe and Asia by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church in America. This is in addition to $450,000 previously allocated for relief purposes.

NEW YORK—United Nations employees in the lower salary brackets today received wage increases ranging up to more than $300 annually after many of them protested they were unable to meet the increased cost of living in New York.

TOLEDO—Willis-Overland Motors, Inc., of Toledo announced today that as part of its $1 million dollar expansion plan it has purchased the Wilson Foundry & Machine company of Pontiac, Mich., where it will produce its engines for the civilian jeep.

LONDON—Government spokesmen withheld comment today on the address of U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes and informed circles said none will be made until the views of the dominion premiers are ascertained.

Awed Spectators Gaze At Scene Of Plane Crash

Skyscraper Smash Of Plane Would Have Taken Heavier Toll If It Had Occurred Earlier

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Crowds of awed spectators (some of whom might have been victims themselves) stood in busy Wall Street today and gazed up at the spot where an army plane crashed into the 58th floor of a 72-story skyscraper, killing five.

The crash occurred at 8:07 last night. Had it occurred a few hours earlier the loss of life might have been appalling.

The Bank of Manhattan Co. building, at 40 Wall, into which the fog-blinded C-45 army light transport crashed, is located in one of the busiest areas of the city. In the day-time the building is filled with workers.

Stenographers, bookkeepers, bankers and brokers gazed this morning at the big hole up there on the 58th floor and recalled the accident—last July 28—when an army bomber struck the towering Empire State building. On that occasion 14 were killed, eleven inside the building, the three others being the fliers.

Report Iranian Forces Overrun Azerbaijan Area

LONDON, May 21.—(INS)—Dispatches from Tahriz insisted today that Iranian government forces supported by heavy artillery are overrunning Azerbaijan province.

The reports were in direct contradiction to statements attributed to government leaders in Tehran, where Premier Ahmed Ghassemlou said he had declared that "unexplained fighting" on the Azerbaijan frontier had ceased on orders issued by himself.

Radio Tahriz spoke at length of intense civil warfare, however, and complained that insurgent military moves were complicated by a counter-revolution of Azerbaijanis and by "Anglo-American reactionaries."

USS Minneapolis Enters Retirement

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(INS)—A gallant naval warrior, the USS Minneapolis, today was piped into retirement after a brilliant 15-year-old career.

At 2 p. m., the fighting cruiser became a part of the Philadelphia group of the inactive Sixth fleet. Appropriate ceremonies, headed by her former skipper, Rear Admiral Charles Rosendahl, were held on the deck of the ship.

The Minneapolis served in the battle of Coral Sea, Midway, Guadalcanal landings, battle of the Eastern Solomons, battle of Tassafaronga Straits, Wake Island, Makin Island, Hollandia, and many other Pacific engagements.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN ALL THE CEMETERY LOTS ARE SOLD?

Oak Park Cemetery Association Can Answer That Question For Oak Park Cemetery. The Answer Is:

OUR PERMANENT TRUST FUND

This cemetery was incorporated in 1893, and a very wise CHARTER REGULATION required a certain percentage of the sale price of each LOT be placed with a TRUSTEE of that Fund. This percentage requirement has been honestly performed for FIFTY-THREE YEARS. This trust fund belongs to all the LOT-OWNERS, and all the earnings of that fund must be used for cemetery maintenance, solely and permanently, and cannot be touched by the Cemetery Association. Here is a certified statement of that Fund:

"This is to certify that on May 15th, 1946, the PERMANENT TRUST FUND OF OAK PARK CEMETERY ASSOCIATION—for which fund The Lawrence Savings & Trust Company acts as Trustee—consisted of cash and investments totalling $48,755.12.

S. A. WEINSCHENK, Trust Officer.

With the large number of LOTS unsold, this Fund should increase to an amount of probably $100,000.00. When all the LOTS have been sold the LOT-OWNERS will control the entire cemetery, with the earnings of that Fund for PERPETUAL MAINTENANCE.

Buy your burial plot in Oak Park Cemetery, and you at once become a part-owner in this PERMANENT TRUST FUND.

The General Assembly of the United Nations, under Article 14 of the charter to make recommendations with respect to the peace settlements. But I confidently expect a peace conference to be called this summer.

Article 14 provides that the general assembly, meeting in September, may recommend measures for peaceful adjustment of any situations which appear likely to "impair the general welfare of the friendly relations among nations."

Pleading for tolerance of all sides, Byrnes said:

"Building the foundation of a people's peace in a war-shattered world is a long and hard process. A people's peace cannot be won by flashing diplomatic triumphs. It requires patience and understanding.

"We must not try to impose our will on others, but we must make sure that others do not get the impression that they can impose their will on us."

Points Made By Byrnes

Reporting on the progress made at Paris, Byrnes made these points:

1. The Paris conference achieved more progress than Byrnes had hoped for. The "Big Four" ministers were able to clarify their positions on fundamental issues and value the weight placed by their nations on each.
2. The United States took the position, on Italy, that it could not underwrite Italian recovery—as it has done to the tune of 900 million dollars—if the fruits were to be taken in reparations by Russia.
3. The American delegation also could not agree to Soviet refusal to accept part of the Italian fleet as reparations. Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov took the position that the fleet was "war booty." Byrnes argued that "war booty" belongs to those who take it, and Russia did not take any part of the Italian fleet. His argument was expected to have a bearing on the Manchuria question, where Moscow has taken Japanese industry as "war booty" and refused to consider it as reparations.
4. After days of debate the question of the Italian colonies resolved itself into Soviet abandonment of a claim to Tripolitania and probably of the Dodecanese. The key to the Italian treaty—disposition of Trieste—went unresolved.
5. The recess of the council meeting till June 15 should expedite agreement when they reconvene. However, in a world short of goods and food, "the four allied governments cannot indefinitely delay the making of peace with countries which they have long ceased to fight. . . . the council of foreign ministers was formed to facilitate and not obstruct the making of peace."

During the services the Rev. Fulton sang an appropriate solo, and the congregation sang one selection.

Clarence Hogue, Homer Cooper, Walter Sipe, James McCleary, Leonard Boyd and Charles Dickey served as pallbearers.

Interment took place in the church cemetery.

ties expect the statewide turnout to run between 30 and 40 per cent of the total registration.

Republican organization leaders, however, were confident that Attorney General James H. Duff, of Carnegie, would capture the gubernatorial nomination by "an overwhelming majority of votes." A similar plurality was predicted for Secretary of Internal Affairs William S. Livengood, Jr., of Somerset, seeking a third term.

Duff also has opposition from ex-staff Sgt. Carl E. Mau, of Marcus Hook, self-styled "G. O. candidate," but the three-cornered battle for the nomination was not expected to be disastrous to the organization.

Minor Opposition

The regular GOP's candidates for U. S. senator and lieutenant governor have minor opposition. Gov. Edward Martin, titular head of Pennsylvania Republicans, was opposed by Mrs. Elizabeth Jordan, of Pittsburgh, while Brig. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, of Lancaster, has John R. Cadwallader, of Meadville, as an opponent.

The Democratic primary will be devoid of any fireworks because only former State Sen. John S. Rice, of Gettysburg, endorsed by leaders for governor, has opposition. Henry A. Morris, of Mahanoy City, veteran seeker of public office, field against him.

No contests involved U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey, of Pittsburgh, hoping for a third term; Senate Minority Leader John H. Deit, of Jeannette, candidate for lieutenant governor; or ex-Sgt. Al Schmid, blind Philadelphia Marine hero, endorsed for secretary of internal affairs.

In addition to selecting statewide candidates, Republicans and Democrats nominate candidates for 33 congressional posts, 208 state assemblies, 25 state senators and 113 state committeemen in each party.

May Crowning At St. John's Church

Rev. Fr. Charles D. Galati, Hillsville, Speaker At May Day Ceremonies

May day ceremonies took place in St. John's the Baptist church, Sunday afternoon, and the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary was crowned, on an altar beautifully arranged.

A procession was held to the church, while the hymn, "O Mary My Mother was sung, and Hall Holy Queen.

Rev. Fr. Elias G. Nader, director of Sodality, blessed the crowns, and Sodality Lucy Jacobs was then crowned. Rev. Fr. Charles D. Galati of Hillsville, preached the sermon, on Mary, Mother of God, and how we should appeal to Mary for assistance.

Mother Dearest, Mother Fairest, hymn was followed with the rosary and Hall Virgin Dearest Mary. Then the May queen crowned the statue, and the presentation of flowers was held.

Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was held with Rev. Fr. William Pisarcik as celebrant, and Fr. Galati, and Fr. Nader, assisting. Holy God We Praise Thy Name closed the program.

other chief peacemaker for the government in the rail dispute, meanwhile was said to be concentrating his efforts in the direction of the railroad operators.

Snyder Confers With Truman

Snyder met President Truman last night when the chief executive returned to Washington from Missouri.

Mr. Truman was expected to enter into the renewed rail wage negotiations whenever the time is ripe for calling the carriers and brotherhoods into a joint session for actual signing of any compromise agreement obtained by the mediators.

The opposing factions, among the strongest in the national economy, ostensibly remained only two cents apart on their wage dispute. The railroads were sticking to a 16-cent hourly increase as recommended by the president's fact-finding board.

The brotherhoods, seeking an 18-cent hourly increase in line with grants in the steel, automotive and electrical equipment industries, seemingly hugged that level.

concessions the government might be able to grant on the miners' 1946 demands.

Industry representatives believe, however, that any government contract would provide for much less than the seventy million dollar welfare fund demanded by Lewis through a seven per cent levy on the industry's payroll. They also anticipate that it would call for independent or tripartite administration of such a fund.

Capt. Tom L. Hall, of Austin, Tex., and First Lieut. Robert L. Stevenson, of The Bronx, N. Y., First Lieut. Angelo A. Ross, of Whitehall, N. Y., and First Lieut. Mary E. Bond, of Newtown, Pa.

The WAC, Lieut. Bond, was attached to the adjutant general's office at Washington.

The name of the fifth victim was Capt. Mansel R. Campbell, Pontiac, Mich.

Came from Smyrna, Tenn.

Authorities at Newark airport said the plane was due to land there after a 760-mile flight from the army air base at Smyrna, Tenn., and had just been given first clearance when it crashed into the 58th story of the 71-story Bank of Manhattan company building at 40 Wall street, tallest structure in New York's crowded financial district and fifth highest in the city.

The plane, a Beechcraft C-45 tore a 20-foot hole in the north side of the building as it crashed into the offices of the Atlas corporation, investment concern headed by Floyd Odom, husband of the celebrated woman flier, Jacqueline Cochran.

FAITH

The business people of New Castle should get behind the people who have the power and influence, and do all they can, to keep the new Route 422 from coming through the center of New Castle.

When it takes you forty minutes to come Moravia Street to East North Street now, what will it be when cars are so cheap that everyone in the family will own one, and every third car will be a truck?

If you travel very much, you will find that every town, of any size, has the main route going around it. We will only be sorry once if this road goes through town.

Jameson Memorial Aid Society Afternoon Tea Annual Meeting

Jameson Memorial Hospital Aid Society was entertained for its annual meeting and tea at the home of Mrs. George R. Ralph, 136 Hazelcroft avenue, Saturday afternoon.

For the occasion the house was beautifully decorated with arrangements of garden flowers.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Harold L. Gordon; first vice-president, Mrs. George R. Ralph; second vice-president, Miss Jennie Morgan; treasurer, Mrs. John L. Elder; recording secretary, Mrs. Maurice A. McClure; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Walter Braham; members of the executive board, Mrs. John B. Offutt, Mrs. Austin A. Webb, Mrs. Paul A. Kaneneliser, Mrs. Rufus C. McKinley, Mrs. Ernest L. Stitzinger, Mrs. Charles A. Read, Mrs. William W. Horner, and Mrs. Elmer B. Russell.

Appointed to the executive board by the president were the following: Mrs. George A. Carpenter, Mrs. Don C. Lindley, Mrs. A. Crawford Hoyt, Mrs. George D. Blair, Mrs. Harold C. Heck, Mrs. William K. Hugus, Miss Beulah Norris, and Mrs. John A. Byers.

For the coming year chairman of the various groups were named as follows: cutting, Mrs. Cassius R. Ralph; director, Mrs. Robert M. Garland; sewing, Mrs. George R. Ralph; purchasing, Mrs. Paris A. Shoaff.

Reports by chairmen of various committees showed that the past year was a very successful one.

Mrs. Robert M. White, chairman of the sewing groups, reported that 13 societies had assisted with Wednesday morning sewing: Epworth guild of Epworth Methodist church, Section One of the First Christian church, the Reading Circle, Reading Circle '91, King's Daughters of Westfield Missionary Society, Welfare department of Woman's club; National Council of Jewish Women; King's Daughters of the First Methodist church; Hershey chapter of the First Presbyterian church; Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church; Baldwin class of Highland U. P. church; Iva M. Hamill Missionary society of Mt. Jackson U. P. church; Shelton Bible class of the First Christian church.

Mrs. George R. Ralph stressed the need for cutters and also urged that all contributors to the society assist with the Wednesday sewings at the hospital regardless of the group scheduled.

Services are progressing nicely and will continue at the hospital.

During the past year, a total of 2,386 articles was completed and in addition the society purchased 90 bedspreads and 96 white cotton blankets.

GODWIN-MOORE CHURCH WEDDING

At a lovely candlelight ceremony in Mahoning Methodist church Saturday evening at 6:45 o'clock, Miss Norma Carlene Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Godwin of Highland Heights, became the bride of Chester P. Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Moore of Enon Valley.

Before the altar banked with flowers, ferns and palms, Rev. Warren A. Bugbee officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street-length dress trimmed with gold, wore a gold and white flower hat, white accessories, and a corsage of blue iris and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruth Moore of Enon Valley, sister of the groom, as maid of honor wore a pink linen dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations. Lawrence C. Godwin, brother of the bride, was best man and William Moore and William Hike were ushers.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. William Hike and Miss Verlee Mauchmann, soloist, sang "Because" and "At Dawning."

In the church dining room following the ceremony, there was a reception for 100 guests, including a number from out-of-town. The buffet table was set with a large tiered wedding cake in the center and was decorated with lilies-of-the-valley, ferns, and tall white tapers. Mrs. J. A. Waddell and Mrs. John W. Wilson poured.

After June 1 the newlyweds will be at home in their newly furnished apartment on Highland avenue extension.

Mrs. Moore, a graduate of New Castle high school, is employed at the Bell Telephone company. Mr. Moore, a graduate of Enon Valley high school, spent 3½ years in the Navy. He is employed at the Babcock-Wilcox company in Beaver Falls.

Sinister Aspects
To Strike Situation

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Sinister is a word to be used sparingly. Webster defines it to mean evil, injurious, disastrous, corrupt.

Yet that word seems to apply to the pattern of strikes taking shape in this country today. Or, perhaps more accurately, it applies to the political motivation which appears to be back of some phases of this spreading cancer.

A strike is scheduled for June 15. That is the strike of the seven CIO Maritime unions. Even though they are far from controlling the waterfronts on the East and West Coasts, since there is active AFL competition, they can go a long way toward shutting down the shipping out of United States ports.

What Happens Then?

What happens, then, to the relief ships carrying food to a hungry world? I asked the question of one of the leading officers of the National Maritime Union. He replied that a special committee has been set up to deal with just that question. Co-chairmen of that committee are Harry Bridges of the CIO Longshoremen's Union and Joseph Curran of the NMU.

I told that nothing had been worked out yet. The committee will take the matter up with UNRRA. They will insist on assurances from UNRRA that ships with UNRRA relief food contain nothing else but relief.

The fact is, however, that UNRRA is shipping only a fraction of the food leaving American ports. That is the fraction going to countries which cannot pay. Most shipments are going to countries that need the food desperately and have the foreign exchange to pay for it.

Ships To Be Stopped? Are these ships to be stopped? The answer seems to be with the Maritime Unions. If they are stopped, hunger, famine will spread in Europe and Asia.

Now look at the background of the Maritime Unions. Communist influence is greater there than in any other union in the country. Bridges and Curran are heroes of the Communist daily worker.

Soviet Russia was asked to join forces with Britain and the United States in helping to meet the famine crisis. In spite of a personal message from President Truman to Stalin, the Russians declined. Does Russia want hunger to spread in the world? Will hunger and chaos further Communist policy? The conduct of the Maritime strike may help to answer those questions.

It is an American tragedy that this strike will take place against a background of collusion and corruption during the war. Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont says the charges against the Maritime Commission and the ship operators add up to "the most shocking story of collusion, corruption and disregard of public interest ever presented against an agency of the United States."

These facts are so exploitable in terms of public opinion. With the Maritime Unions representing the extreme political left, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers represent the extreme political right. Lewis has become the hero of Republican isolationism. Diehard employers see in his tactics the chance to realize their fondest aims.

The coal strike has gone a long way toward undermining price control. In so doing, it has irreparably harmed the Truman administration. Mass production unions in steel and automobiles are suffering severe damage which comes on top of the losses resulting from the steel and motor strikes.

While they have different aims, extreme left and extreme right are achieving the same result. That result is to reduce America to impotence at a time when the weight of our prestige and influence is most needed to strike a balance in a despotic world. An avowed Communist in this country has been quoted as saying that the "ultimate" of the United States' effort to "interfere" with Russian foreign expansion will be the reduction of this country to a "third-rate power."

The strikes can be explained as an inevitable result of the fearful economic dislocation of the war. The railroad unions cannot be fitted into any broad political pattern. When their leaders have played politics, it has been almost entirely in the special interests of the railroad unions. They have taken a middle-of-the-road political line.

Yet when all this has been said, the fact remains that if in the interests of international power politics the aim had been to cripple and impair this country, it could not have been done more effectively. You do not have to look far to see what this means.

Just Folks

"I love you very much!" she said. And kissed my cheek and stroked my head.

And toyed a little with my tie. And oh so very proud was I!

"I love you lots!" I heard her say. I'm over-stout and turning gray.

But not too fat and not too old To swell with pride when that I'm told.

"I love you very much!" said she. And promptly climbed upon my knee.

Now I'm the proudest man alive. For I've a sweetheart almost five.

Science has launched another attack on the common cold but John Lewis holds the fort of the headache in his vest pocket.

Aspirin is a soft coal derivative and one more of Lewis strikes could set the common headache back 50 years.

Many people have long suspected that there was more than an accidental connection between Lewis and headaches and they now stand confirmed.

Now the CIO is after the scalp of civilian production administrator John D. Small. His was the small voice crying in the wilderness for a six month holiday from strikes.

Any man who suggests that people should go to work for six months with the summer just coming on... Deserves no better than he will get.

And true friends of labor know that the only way to prosperity is through lost profits and wages.

I'm watching the pie in the sky for you. It doesn't seem to be moving any closer.

By exposing the pie in the sky for you. It doesn't seem to be moving any closer.

For instance, imagine the onion on your hamburger tasting like a peach.

Strawberries are wonderful in their place but we sure hate to have our onion soup taste like liquid short-cake.

The onion has always been regarded as a lowly, humble, vegetable but science has never gotten around to dreaming up a perfect substitute. In fact, we hope science doesn't.

Folks who think a cocktail breath is fashionable tend to look down on onion odor as a plebeian aroma but in our book it's the most honest of the two.

The dictionary says the onion originated in Asia. But it didn't reach its perfection until it migrated west and met its soul mate—the hamburger.

The onion is really a third or fourth cousin of the lily which is much prettier to look at and very elegant in a salad, a soup or a sandwich which is the realm where Queen Onion rules without a rival.

Yes, Italy's one-time miniature monarch has 20 million of those frogskins stashed in England. That should keep him in coffee and cakes for a while.

Earl Browder has gone to Moscow. Maybe to repent of his turning over the Communist party in the United States to the New Deal.—Somerset, Pa., American.

It's getting around that time to think very seriously about putting in a vegetable garden... many people already have a nice start but if you are like us things have sort of piled up and now it's do or don't.

Tomato plants can be set out now with little fear... at least that's what we are doing right now... Can't talk ourselves into putting out pepper plants... Oh but it's good to be able to put around in the good earth at leisure instead of diving into the good earth for protection.

Out Cascade Park way things are really blooming... Chris Coulthard has all very well under control and the opening on Memorial Day looks mighty good... There is no more beautiful spot in western Pennsylvania than right here in Cascade Park... It's your park you know... and should be treated as you would your property around your home... That way we all can be proud of it any time and to every one.

Today is Primary Election Day... and in case you haven't as yet used your privilege... you have until nine o'clock Daylight Savings time to get over to the voting place and do your stuff. Remember that if you let this privilege go by and things are slipped in that you don't approve you have no one but yourself to blame... and we don't want in some of the foreign countries and without going into detail you know what that led into. So for goodness sakes do your stuff and do it now. Don't say that the primaries are unimportant... any voting time is important.

Let the chaps who had decided to make the army a career... especially those who were or are now in the officer ranks are not too well pleased that they now must wear the same uniform as the old stepped heart out and we don't mean maybe... Can you old enlisted men who are now proudly wearing sport shirts in many colors recall some of the ribbon cracks?

Legislation that would control stoppage of work due to strikes should now by all means be of considerable interest and study and immediate action to those who call themselves congressmen.

Great Game Of Politics

Senator Pepper's
Talk Is Assailed

WASHINGTON, May 21. THAT "we are not going to lie down and see labor crucified" shriek from Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, uttered early in the Senate debate is typical of the arguments against any and every effort to abate labor-union abuses, to protect the public interests against the misuse of labor power or to make labor unions amenable to the same laws that apply to the rest of us.

OF COURSE, it is no argument at all; it is blatant and unadorned demagoguery. The words are the hackneyed words of the professional labor leader, regularly mouthed by the labor-lobby spokesmen in our national legislature. This talk about "crucifying labor" is extremely cheap stuff. No one wants "crucified labor." And these senatorial breast beaters who yell to Heaven to that effect very well know it. No one wants to "rob labor of its dearly won rights." No one is out to "stab labor in the back."

YET, in the face of a great economic crisis, forced on the country by men greedy for more and more power, no protective move can be made without the air being filled with these and other stock cries, which have been used by the labor boss since the beginning of the labor movement. Contemplating today the tremendous advantages, special privileges, powers and exemptions which have accrued to the labor unions in the last thirteen years of Administration support, this cry of "crucifying labor" is too silly to discuss.

IF THERE is any crucifixion going on the victim is the country not the unions. They are—and have been—"top dogs" for a long time and the fight now in progress in the Senate is not to "crucify labor" but to curb the power of a few labor bosses to budge the whole nation into acquiescence in their will. Mostly this crucifixion clapnet comes from a small group of Democratic senators as CIO mouthpieces.

SENATOR PEPPER is at once the most articulate and consistent of these. If there is any measure in the Senate favored by the CIO which he has not supported, if there is any proposal opposed by its bosses which he has not opposed, if there is any principle, policy or program enunciated by its propaganda department which he has not echoed and endorsed, it cannot now be recalled. In return, of course, Senator Pepper gets a complete CIO support in all the CIO's moves. Like Mr. Wallace, whom the Hillmans and Murphys would like to see headed toward the presidency or vice presidency, which is easy to understand.

OF COURSE, Senator Pepper and the other CIO senators, as he says, "will fight with every ounce of our strength" to prevent any modification of existing labor laws, which is opposed by the labor lobby. And such is the lack of leadership and the confusion on the other side that they may again be successful in stalling off effective action. But it will not be for long. Public sense is gathering on this issue. Soon or late legislation to protect the public will be forced. Perhaps sooner than we think the politicians, from President down, will discover that it is far more a political liability than it is an asset to be linked with the CIO or regarded as a CIO stroke.

Good Taste

KEEP WORRIES FROM CHILDREN

"My husband and I are not congenial but we continue to live together for the sake of our small son. Many of my friends think we would be showing greater consideration for our child if we separate. Their theory is that our unhappy situation will reflect itself in our son and possibly warp his personality. Do you think this is so?"

Answer: I would never advise a husband and wife to separate so long as there is the slightest chance of a reconciliation. There is today, too much needless tragedy resulting from broken homes and orphans of divorce. Disregard your friends' advice and try your best to keep your home intact for your son's sake at least.

One of the most intimate friends, although estranged from her husband during the past ten years, has lived with him merely for the sake of their two young children. Yet in all of that time they have by mutual agreement hidden their mutual estrangement from the little ones who the other day expressed their pity for the children next door because their parents' quarrels made them continually unhappy.

As a matter of fact, the couple next door are very congenial and happy. They merely display bad taste by allowing their children to overhear their nervous systems of quarrels and petty squabbles. So as a result the nervous systems of the happy couple's children are being irritated while those of the unhappy couple are being spared due to heroic self-control.

These early impressions on children remain with them throughout their lives. During their formative years, children should be spared all worry and nervous tension.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

First I was a bit amused by the story in my morning paper which told about five children from the little hamlet of Johnson, up in Vermont, completing a "good-will mission" to the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick of the Riverside church in New York by presenting him with four gallons of local maple syrup.

The trip this year revives a pre-war custom sponsored by the United Church of Johnson for an excursion during Easter vacations by children of the parish. Each of the excursions includes a visit to some prominent American and the presentation of samples of one of Vermont's leading industries.

After thinking about it for a few minutes, amusement gave way to an appreciation of the gift and its spirit.

Perhaps that syrup isn't intended as just something to put on griddle cakes, but as a symbol.

After all, isn't syrup itself the symbol of good will?

And didn't my wife just yesterday tell me that it is much better to use molasses than vinegar? We were having our dinner in a little inn near Brookfield, and the waitress had just put large goblets of cottage cheese on our table.

I am sick and tired of cottage cheese and was just about ready to blow my top and to tell the proprietor what I thought of his place.

"Keep the cork on the vinegar bottle and let us try molasses," said my wife.

Just then the owner of the place saw us—we hadn't been there since last fall—and asked us how were enjoying our dinner.

In her sweetest contralto my wife said:

"Oh, it's simply delicious. But we do miss our butter. Everything tastes so much nicer with butter. But wait a minute, maybe I can find you a couple of pats."

A couple of minutes later he came back, and, making sure that the other guests didn't see him, he put two big pats of butter on our plates.

"This is from our own private supply," he said, "but you are so nice that I feel as if you are members of the family."

Very judiciously, my wife didn't rub it in, but her smiling silence once again proved to me that a man may be the master of the house, but that it takes a woman to master a situation.

So you see why that presentation of the maple syrup was a pretty sensible good-will mission after all. Syrup is good for more things than griddle cakes.

There was a weary lumberman, whose step was weak and slow; Once he was strong and full of pep, but that was long ago.

In times when good equipment could be bought on any day, Without an act of Congress, and there was no OPA.

Adding turmoil and confusion to other troubles such As Unions pushing wages up for doing not so much.

The soldier said "My little house, it need be nothing fine; Just a cozy little dwelling of red-cork, fir or pine.

For rafters, and the studding I'll need some two by fours. Some shingles to put on the roof, some siding, floors and doors."

Then spoke the weary lumberman, "There is no pine or fir. Nor any redwood either for this house for you and her."

It may be that our industry has lost its true perspective. But the only stocks we have on hand are OPA directives. We haven't even holes.

To sell as per directions of Mr. Chester Bowles. The soldier and the lumberman, they bought an evening paper; They saw a headline in the same that made their sad hearts caper.

It said that in the Congress a law was introduced. Whereby all needed houses could be right away produced.

The soldier and the lumberman began to add the bill. The first line listed their beaming smiles; the next line made them ill.

With growing apprehension, they read the next lines quicker. And every line that each read made each one feel still sicker.

The bill had no provisions for providing two by fours. No word was there of shingles, foundations, doors or floors. It provided a Director, with a salary and fees.

And an occupation largely of employing employees; Thus not assuring houses or boards, Or strips or slats.

But another scheme, a thousand of unwanted Bureaucrats. The soldier to the lumberman, he said, "I greatly fear This is another bunch of stuff that we are handed here."

As directors make directives and each Bureaucrat cavorts. You'll be answering subpoenas and filling in reports. And I'll make applications, turning sadly and perplexed. From a simple want at one desk to a moron at the next.

And when I am too old and weak from desk to desk to roam, I'll dig my girl a foxhole and call it home sweet home."

Repatriated Americans Arrive From Germany

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, May 21.—Every passenger was a gripping, human interest story—most often a poignant one—as the refugee ship, "Marine Flasher," docked in New York Monday from Bremerhaven, Germany.

It was the first ship carrying repatriated Americans and quota immigrants from Europe under a presidential directive.

There were babies without parents, wives without husbands, young girls thrilled by the prospect of starting life anew in free America—war victims of all kinds.

As they gazed with wonder at New York's great skyscrapers.

Several thousand people milled around the pier eager to greet them. Many of the newcomers were relatives.

Tears were in the eyes of gray-haired, 71-year-old Mrs. Anna Possel, as she looked out over the waiting throng to spot her son, Herbert, a bank cashier employed by the First National Bank at North Beren, N. J.

Left Ten Years Ago
Mrs. Possel was an American citizen when she left Newark, N. J., 10 years ago with her husband, Otto, an oil refinery employee. The war broke out. Then, as the Americans were mopping up the Germans, a shell hit their little home in a small town called Heubach Rhon, at the foot of the Rhon mountains, and killed her husband.

Mrs. Possel's voice trembled as she told International News Service how the townspeople had selected her husband to do the talking to the incoming Americans. Otto could speak English well.

"Otto and I waited at the window of our little cottage," said Mrs. Possel. "The Yank armored division was nearby, firing shells as they came on."

"My husband and I seized our passports and waited at a window of our home. We felt that liberation was near. I left his side for a minute and as I did a shell came through and hit my husband. He died in my arms a few minutes later."

Another woman whose husband was killed in the war was Mrs. Henricha Fenigstein, of Warsaw.

She was in a big room amidst taking care of 10 little babies—all of them orphaned by the war. The babies cooed and gurgled as they sat in their makeshift cribs and watched Mrs. Fenigstein talk to the reporter.

"I've been happy all the way since taking care of these kiddies," she said. "I've been feeding them their bottles and given them a special diet. Their fathers and mothers were all lost in the war."

"My own husband? He was Dr. Bernard Fenigstein, of Warsaw. I lost him. He is dead."

Mrs. Fenigstein is on her way to live with her cousin, Mrs. Hattie Dean, of Detroit, Mich.

Find Man Buried In Potter's Field Had Small Estate

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(INS)—Records in orphans court disclose that a man found drowned in Delaware bay and buried in Potter's field in Wilmington has left an estate totaling more than seven thousand dollars.

The man was John Tomson, an American seaman who lived while ashore at Second and Pine streets in Philadelphia. Tomson was lost overboard from the S. S. Brockton in March, 1943. He left the money to his seven brothers and sisters abroad.

J. PAGLIASSOTTIS, NEWLYWEDS, VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. James Pagliassotti returned from a honeymoon at the Summit near Uniontown and spent a day here with their parents before leaving for their new home in Whiting, Ind. The bride before her marriage was Miss Rose Margaret Costa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Costa, 411 Norwood avenue, this city. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pagliassotti of 39 Jackson avenue, Hubbard, O.

They were united in marriage at a nuptial mass in St. Vitus church Saturday, May 11. Rev. Albert M. Inteso officiated.

Maid of honor was Miss Theresa Pagliassotti, sister of the groom. Louis Costa, brother of the bride, was best man.

A wedding breakfast was served at The Castleton, followed in the afternoon by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Youngstown college. Before her marriage the bride was medical technician at Jameson Memorial hospital. The groom, a research chemist, is associated with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Out of town guests were Raymond Costa of Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo de Matteo and Anthony de Matteo of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. S. Johnson-Vricelle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Sabore, Miss Judy Megala and William Maddocks, all of Youngstown, and Richard Waters of Niles.

TRINITY LEAGUE PLANS MEETING

Members of the Laymen's League of Trinity Episcopal church will assemble in the guild room of the church Wednesday evening, May 22.

Election of officers for the ensuing year will be conducted. Movies and other entertainment will be added features. Refreshments will be served by the entertainment committee at the close of the evening.

Eleanor Saros June 1 Bride-Elect

Miss Eleanor Saros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Saros of 1502 Hamilton street has chosen Saturday, June 1 for her marriage to Paul W. Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rhodes of 1114 Cunningham avenue.

The wedding will be performed at an open church ceremony in the Wesleyan Methodist church, Lyndal street, at 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Saros has asked her sister, Miss Lillian Saros, to be maid of honor and Russell E. Rhodes will serve his brother as best man.

Anniversary Dinner

With a dinner at their home on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lazar, Ninth street, West Pittsburgh, celebrated their 46th wedding anniversary, which was May 20.

Sons and daughters of the couple together with their husbands and wives were among those present.

From out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vencel of Newton Falls, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Paulus and son of Massillon, O.; and Mr. and Mrs. John Bender of New Castle.

COUNCIL HAS DINNER

Lawrence county council of PTA closed the year's program with a dinner in the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening.

Six units were represented at the dinner, with president, Mrs. Carl Phillips and president-elect, Mrs. Horace Allen giving reports of the Southwestern district convention in Pittsburgh.

Waldo unit had charge of the program for the evening, with Mrs. Earl presiding. Movies were shown by John Cornelius; after which Randall Mooney played a piano solo.

Mrs. K. K. McCreary presided at the installation of officers during the business meeting. The group will not meet again until September.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Overnight Camping Trip

Thirty Girl Reserves from Shannago Township high school finished their year's activities with a hike to Camp East Brook over the weekend. On Friday evening the campers played "truth or consequences", under the direction of the club president, Mildred Hay, and later had a wiener roast and a friendship circle, led by Mary Lou Eakin.

Ball games and hiking were the main events on Saturday, until the group broke camp at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Chaperons for the weekend were Mary Aiken, Leola Rowe and Frances Booser.

Good Neighbor Club

Good Neighbor club will meet on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ed Coyne, West Washington street.

Second Carload Of Wheat Loading

Last Day For Ingathering
Of Grain For Famine
Sufferers Set For Friday

Friday is the deadline for accepting wheat for shipment to the famine sufferers of the world, Dorris L. Fulkman, county agricultural conservation chairman, stated today, and every farmer in Lawrence county who has any surplus wheat, no matter how small the amount, is asked to bring it in on that date.

One carload was shipped out last week and a second carload is being loaded, many farmers having brought in grain Monday and today. Between six and 10 tons of grain were received Monday, it was stated.

With the wheat harvest only a few weeks off, farmers who can spare what may amount to a surplus are asked to contribute it to these famine sufferers who can starve or die by starvation until their own crops are available.

Not only will those who contribute be performing a humanitarian act, but they will also be compensated, the price of wheat now standing at the highest figure in several years, with an additional bonus being paid by the Commodity Credit corporation to those who give their grain to the famine sufferers.

Cleveland Transit Improvement Voted

City Council In Cleveland Approves Of $25,000,000 Modernization Plan

CLEVELAND, May 21.—(INS)—Cleveland's 25 million dollar transit modernization plan was approved today by the city council.

The plan calls for a downtown subway and rapid feeder lines over the Nickel Plate road right-of-way from the East Side to W. 110th street. Unloading platforms downtown would be located in the Union terminal.

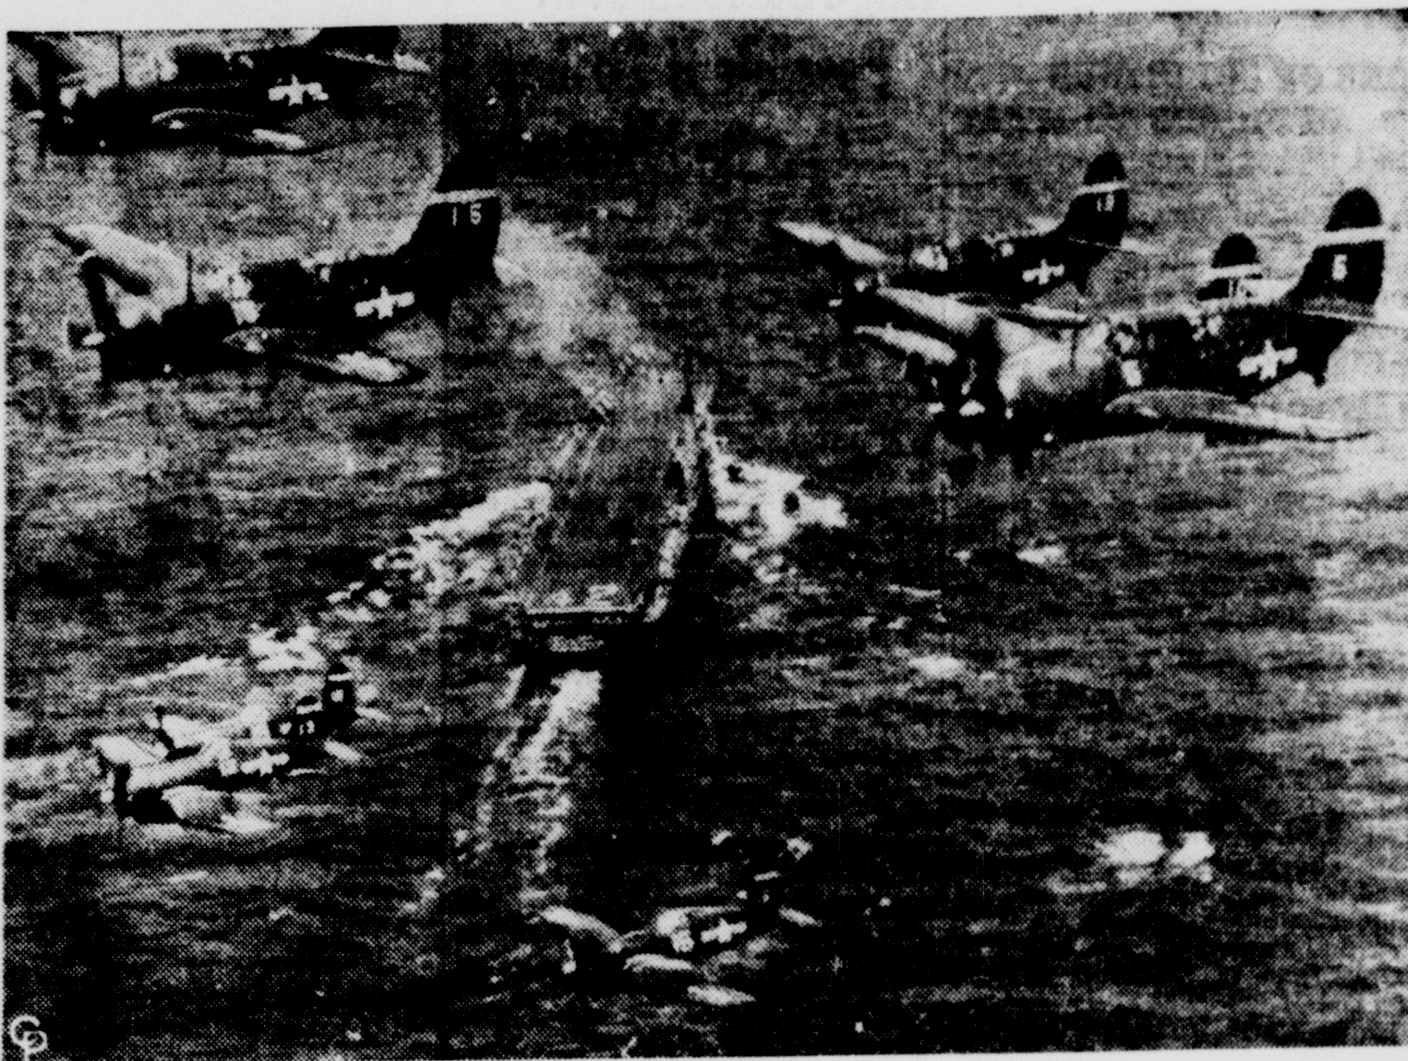

Amendments which would have virtually crippled the proposed modernization of the city-owned transit system were ruled illegal by City Law Director Lee C. Howley in a stormy session of council. Only amendment to survive was that council preserves all prior rights to vote down any individual step proposed by the transit board to realize the plan.

PLEADS GUILTY TO IMPERSONATION

Clarence Jenkins, 108 South Walnut street, charged with false pretense, has pleaded guilty and in default of $500 bail, has been committed to city jail and to await June session of court.

Jenkins was arrested May 17, when it is charged he obtained the sum of $10 from a housewife in the city, posing as a collector of the Reick-McJunkin Dairy company. He was arraigned before Alderman L. C. Mantz by Robert Hanna, chief of police.

EIGHTH FLEET PLAYS AT WAR IN CARIBBEAN

Non-Operating Rail Workers May Also Strike

CHICAGO, May 21.—(INS)—A second railroad strike, involving one million non-operating employees, today appeared to be in the offing.

Union officials in Chicago counting strike ballots, predicted that a walkout will be ordered by the members of the 15 non-operating unions. The dispute has no connection with the brotherhoods of trainmen and engineers who are scheduled to walk out Thursday when their five-day truce ends.

The non-operating unions, which had demanded a 30 cents per hour wage increase, were granted a 16 cent boost by an arbitration board on April 3. Twelve days later they made a formal demand on the carriers for the additional 14 cents.

The result of the mail strike vote may not be known for another 30 days, non-operating union officials said, and after that attempts at mediation will be made.

LARGE GROUP OF NAVY MEN WILL ARRIVE TOMORROW

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—The largest group of navy personnel to arrive in New York on one transport will reach the city tomorrow aboard the U. S. S. Wakefield carrying 6,685 officers and men from Guam.

Some 4,250 of the passengers are scheduled for discharge. The Wakefield was formerly the luxury liner Manhattan.

GOLF RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

Joseph D. Alexander, director of city parks and playgrounds and also head of the Sylvan Heights golf course, today reported he had been informed by the city controller, W. A. Moore, that golf receipts for the first two months of the current season are twice as large as they were for the period last year. The city course is in good condition, Alexander reported.

OPA Injunction Suit Is Entered Against Brewery

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(INS)—In the first action ever taken in Philadelphia against a brewery, the OPA today filed an injunction suit in federal court against the Columbia Brewing Company, of Shendooah, and two of its officers.

The complaint alleges that between March 28, and December 11, 1945, the company sold 16,539 cases of beer, each case containing twelve 32 ounce bottles at twelve cents over the ceiling, and thereby collecting $1,996.68 above ceiling prices.

The OPA seeks only a restraining order to prohibit the defendants in the future from selling beer above the price limit. The suit does ask for "other relief," if found necessary, and with this leaves open the right at some future time to ask for damages.

The two officers named as defendants are Joseph A. Paulosky, president, and Agnes M. Paulosky, secretary and treasurer.

The proceedings were instituted by the Scranton office of the OPA by Paul E. Pendel, district enforcement attorney.

Third Death In Crash Of Bomber

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—(INS)—The deaths resulting from the crash of an army B-17 bomber near Fairfax, Cal., stood at three today with Lieut. Martin Hradisky, 26, of Ithaca, N. Y., as the third fatality.

Hradisky died in Letterman hospital in San Francisco just half an hour after his mother and sister reached his bedside from Ithaca.

The bomber crashed last Thursday on a flight from Los Angeles to Hamilton Field, Cal.

Two of the six survivors were reported still in a critical condition.

WORKERS PICKET CITY BUILDINGS IN SCRANTON, PA.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 21.—(INS)—Pickets paraded before Scranton municipal buildings today as the week-old sympathy strike of Department of Works employees continued in protest to the dismissal of 160 workers.

The work stoppage was precipitated by Mayor James T. Hanlon's dismissal of garbage and ash collectors for "inefficiency."

May Crowning At St. Lucy's Church

Twelve Initiated Into Immaculate Conception Sodality: Crown Blessed Virgin Mary

At St. Lucy's church, Sunday afternoon, three o'clock, twelve new candidates were initiated into the Immaculate Conception Sodality by Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, after which he presented each with the sodality medal.

Those initiated were Catherine Desimone, Bertha Ona, Stella DeLuca, Margaret Martino, Edith Martino, Mabel Funera, Laura DeAngelis, Clara Leone, Jennie DeVito, Mary Pelosi, Caroline Rozzi, Margaret Nocera. Attendants during the ceremony were: Connie Zumpella, Rose Leone, Flossie Mason, Jean LaMarco, Antoinette Melozzi, Jean Tommelio.

Rev. Fr. Albert Inteso gave an address on the subject "The benefits derived from being members of the sodality." The Ave Maria was sung by Josephine Martello, accompanied by Vito Calloio on the violin, and Rose Martin presided at the organ.

Rev. Fr. Ippolito crowned the May Queen, Ida Conti. This was followed by a procession by members of the sodality, from the church, accompanied by the Junior Children of Mary, who comprised the living rosary. The procession arrived on the church lawn, where there was a statue of the Virgin Mary. The sodality members surrounded the statue. Rev. Fr. Pernatozzi of Ellwood City, gave a talk on "The significance of crowning the Blessed Virgin Mary"; the May Queen then proceeded to crown the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Each of the attendants carried a bouquet of flowers, which were placed by them at the base of the statue.

The procession returned to the church, and the benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was pronounced by Rev. Fr. Ippolito. Rev. Fr. Inteso, Rev. Fr. Pernatozzi. This is the first May crowning that has been performed at St. Lucy's church.

Chemistry Students Win Fellowships To Finish Graduate Work

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Nine predoctoral students of chemistry and chemical engineering throughout the state have been awarded fellowships for three years graduate studies in schools which they themselves select according to an announcement from the American Chemical society which made the awards.

Four of the students are graduates of schools near here. Roy M. Adams received his B. A. from Geneva College; Thomas G. Gibson attended Carnegie Institute in Pittsburgh; William C. King of Pittsburgh, received his bachelor of science degree from Carnegie Tech; and Max E. Roha of Meadville graduated from Allegheny college.

Ban On Marriages For U. S. Forces In Germany Remains

BERLIN, May 21.—(INS)—The present ban on marriages between American soldiers and German frauleins will remain in force as long as Gen. Joseph T. McNarney is military governor of Germany or until a peace treaty is signed.

McNarney served this flat ukase today in one of his rare news conferences at the former campaign headquarters of Reichsmarshal Hermann Goerring's Luftwaffe. The general was asked if the ban were apt to be removed in view of the rising tide of pregnancies among German girls. The answer was a flat "no."

Huge Sales In U. S. Possible If Strikes Can Be Eliminated

CHICAGO, May 21.—(INS)—An officer of the National Federation of Sales Executives estimated today that more than 200 billion dollars worth of merchandise still can be sold in the United States this year if strikes are eliminated.

Speaking at the federation's annual distribution congress in session in Chicago, Gene Plack, vice president of the sales group, pointed out that his estimate exceeds by 103 billion dollars the sales record for a peace-time year.

Plack declared that a sales total of 140 billion dollars would provide jobs for 53,500,000 persons. He added:

"This number of employed would make certain that this nation would avoid any possibility of a depression."

The speaker said the nation's sales executives plan to achieve a "depression-free" goal by increasing the number of persons engaged in selling from the pre-war total of 6,500,000 to 10,000,000.

Cancer Total $7,578 So Far

Ellwood City Report, Industrial Donations Expected To Swell Total Funds

Lawrence county has raised $7,578 so far in the drive for funds for the prevention of cancer. This total embraces the donations of the city of New Castle and surrounding communities with the exception of Ellwood City, whose report is expected to swell the total considerably.

Mrs. J. W. McIlwraith, field captain in the campaign, has said that when the Ellwood City donations and the other contributions from city industries come in, the county should come very close to the $12,000 quota.

Money collected in this drive will be split between the four hospitals in the county and the national research fund. The higher the total, the better equipment can be purchased to combat this dread enemy which every year snuffs out the lives of thousands of Americans.

Truckers Discuss Convention Plans

Plans for the 1946 convention of the Pennsylvania Motor Truck association, to be held in Harrisburg June 7 and 8, were discussed Monday night, May 20, when the Lawrence county chapter held its monthly dinner meeting in The Castleton hotel.

Paul W. Keely, New Castle truck operator, who has been the state president for the past two years, will be succeeded this year by a new president. Mr. Keely is now a vice president of the American Trucking association. A number of local truck operators plan to attend the convention.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

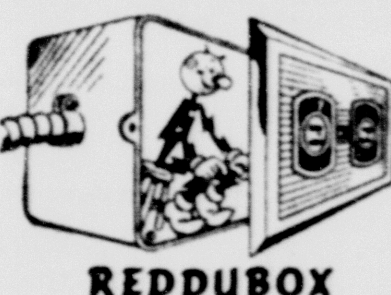

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives a happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

When your home laundry moves up from the basement, you'll wonder why you ever spent those long dreary days in the cellar. Of course, the washing job made such a mess it was logical to get laundry headquarters out of sight. Those days are changing now. Soon laundries will be as attractive as kitchens. There'll be linoleum floors, wall cabinets, bright colors and cheerful lights. The electric washer will do a complete job without the home-maker's hands coming into contact with water. The clean, well wrung clothes will be transferred to the electric drier and quickly made ready for the ironer... Yes, the laundry is ready to move upstairs. Some of the appliances can be had now—others will come before long. Talk to your electric dealer and hear his suggestions.

ELECTRIC LIVING needs ADEQUATE WIRING

When you remodel or build your home don't forget to make the wiring modern. Make it adequate to carry all the current you need to live electrically. Have a 60 ampere switch installed. Be sure there are enough circuits to properly distribute service. Wire size should be large enough to get the required electricity to every appliance. Switches and outlets should be plentiful. Make wiring adequate.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER COMPANY

ENGINEERS FROM FOREIGN LANDS TO TOUR TURNPIKE

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Engineers from three foreign lands—South America, China and India—were scheduled to arrive in Pittsburgh today on the first leg of a 2,000-mile highway inspection tour of the east and middle west. The group will travel over parts of the famed Pennsylvania turnpike and visit some of the heavy industries where highway equipment is manufactured.

DOG MUST DIE FOR BITING CHILD

A dog which bit little Ellen Chadbolt, 613 Bennett street, last night must die. This was the order of police today. However, the dog will not be executed by the dog-catcher until it has been observed for possible rabies for a period of 15 days.

Few Early Voters In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(INS)—Only a trickle of Philadelphians appeared at the polls today to cast their ballots in the Pennsylvania primaries. Political observers, blaming a combination of bad weather and general disinterest in the current campaign, predicted that less than a third of the city's more than nine hundred thousand eligible voters would cast their ballots.

The polling places opened at 8 a. m. and will close tonight at 9 p. m. Meanwhile, all liquor establishments throughout the state remained closed. Under state law they are permitted to reopen one hour after the polls close.

Foreign Trade Week Observed By Rotary Club

Foreign Trade Counsellor Discusses Outlook For Foreign Trade
In Post-War Era

Speaking before the New Castle Rotary club at its noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday, P. J. Muller of New York, foreign trade counsellor of Business Publishers International Corporation of New York City, told the club members that the prospects for foreign trade in the post-war era are exceedingly bright.

There is a vast amount of money on deposit in this country, which is available for the purchase of goods and materials, and which will be turned into these channels as soon as manufacturers are able to make deliveries. For a time, many manufacturers in various lines were not accepting orders for export because they were unable to supply the domestic market.

Latin American countries, many of which benefitted through the war, have four billions of dollars on deposit in this country, Mr. Muller stated, and will be in the market for machinery, materials and technical advice.

In spite of the fact that Brazil is just opening a 30 million dollar steel plant, it still has a big market for concrete reinforcing steel.

There is a big demand for water purification systems, and during the past year a great quantity of cast iron pipe, water meters and fittings was shipped to Latin American countries.

There is a vast amount of modern construction going on in South America, which takes a great quantity of materials from the United States, he stated.

The light-gathering power of a telescope is proportional to the area of its lens or mirror. The 40-inch Yerkes refractor increases the amount of light 40,000 times that received by the eye.

Younger Slant On The Town

Summer vacations are always preceded by plans which begin in March or April, and change 15 or 30 times before the tickets are finally bought or the gas tank is filled for the trip. . . . Pat Treharne has her eye on Cedar Point, however, and says she's pretty certain that she's heading there. . . . Ann Higgins and a gang of friends from Mt. Mercy are renting a cottage in Maryland for the week of June 9 through 16. . . . Jim Walter would like to go to Sandusky, for a vacation and a job both. . . . If they'll show it to you, take a look at the list of stuff Red Richards and Red Angelo are intending to take with them when they hitch-hike out to California this summer. If they really mean it, they'll need a moving van, for they're taking everything from blue jeans to cut-away coats—just in case they crash the movies. . . . Dora Ferver was thinking about running the riding stables in New Wilmington during the summer until Ernie sold a couple of the best horses last week—now she's reconsidering.

Don Gurgiole left Ne-Ca-Hi for higher education at Paris Island last winter and returned home on his first leave with one comment—"I never thought I could learn so much in such a short time." Don left for his base this afternoon, after a week at home.

Dick Hite and his fiancée, Shirley Kennedy, had seats on the first floor of the Nixon for Maurice Evans' production of "Hamlet" Wednesday evening. Ne-Ca-Hi was well represented by a bus load of students who took in the performance.

Maureen and Jimmy Van Gorder are in the lucky group—they have found a house to buy—it's on Morton street, and they expect to move in soon. Jimmy has been working in Ellwood City since he came back from the Pacific last fall.

Bill Calderwood, an ex-G. I. who is now back at Westminster, hasn't been in The Castleton lobby so much recently, because the desk clerk whom he dates got a new job.

Roy McClendon, whose baritone voice was one of the best things about the capella choir back in 1941, was at the choir's concert Friday night. He's been to India and back since the last time he heard the choir sing.

Speaking of the Class of June '41, Alice DiCarlo says that a lot of the kids are back in town now, and are in the mood for a reunion—and the ones who aren't here would like to come. That was the class of Pinky Carr, Dot Devlin, Tom Middleton, Eleanor Eckles, Andy Harcar, Bob Glend, Phil Louie, Lou Grossman, Polly Butz, Genevieve Burro, Joe Burns, Shirley Tobin, Betty Whieldon (Mrs. Don Gages), Kate Wilcox (Mrs. Albert Helker), Mary Jane McGinty, George Stitzinger, George Scarazzo, Chuck Weiss, Keller Cochran, Trudi Corbin, Hustus Stevens. Hustus was reported missing in action over Truk. Jack Hoschar, also in this class, was killed in Europe. . . .

Eleanor Farina, a Bessemer gal, graduated from Thiel college, in Greenville, Monday, with a secretarial certificate. Her sorority was Gamma Delta, and besides that, she was in the WAA, served on the social committee of her dormitory on the staff of the campus paper, was secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and has held office as treasurer and as corresponding secretary of the Gamma Deltas. . . .

Westminster's student council has re-elected Scovel Carlson, a senior from New Wilmington, as president. Scovel is one of the G. I.'s who have come back to the campus after time out for service. A New Wilmington girl, Beck McKnight, is secretary of the student council. . . .

Fifteen-year-old Donna Shumaker has won a scholarship to Northwestern university. Only 75 of these were granted throughout the entire United States. Donna doesn't confine herself to academic pursuits—she's an expert horsewoman, too. . . .

You'll have to take Joe Wagner's word for this, but he says he was picked up by the police a couple of weeks ago for carrying a Thompson 45 caliber sub-machinegun. Joe's ability to make deceptively realistic models of guns, plans, and boats is remarkable, and when he makes a full-scale model of a gun, more people than the police are deceived. This particular model was patterned after a gun which has a muzzle velocity of 8800 f. p. s., a chamber for 45 caliber ACP cartridges, and a 30-shot service magazine in a double box. The stock of the model is constructed of maple, while the receiver, forestock, pistol grip, barrel, sight mount, cocking handle, and clip are made of balsa, painted black with airplane dope. The compensator is made from brass bushing, also painted black. "The policeman didn't ask for any explanation, see he just told me to come along," Joe explains. When I laid the gun on the table, the wood-like clatter kind of surprised the man at the desk, and he wanted to know what the gag was. I just smiled and picked up my gun, and then he got kinda mad. He told me to make haste in leaving the premises—in slightly different words."

After an absence of some years, Miss Gladys Rich, former supervisor of music in the New Castle public schools is here visiting friends. Miss Rich has resided in her native city of Ogden, Utah, for the past five years after a colorful experience in public music over the country.

For five years she was in New Castle and in 1933 went to Clarion State Teachers College where she directed music for five years. She then went to Pasadena, Cal., for a time but upon the death of her mother returned to Ogden with her father. She now devotes her time to composing. In the summer months she resides in Ogden, in the winter in Pasadena. One of her numbers, composed while she was in New Castle, "An American Lullaby" has attracted considerable attention and was first given nation wide attention when it was sung by Lawrence Tibbett.

On Monday night a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk of Savannah, and scores of her friends in New Castle were guests. Miss Rich is the house guest of the Misses Sara and Virginia Weinschenk while she is in New Castle. She leaves here for Clarion and later to New York before returning to Ogden.

Personally, we can figure out why the little man who isn't any longer there (politically speaking) didn't go to England. With all that mocha we'd guess he'd want to keep one eye on it.

Announce Plans For Alumni Day At Slippery Rock

SLIPPERY ROCK, May 21—An extensive celebration is planned at Slippery Rock college Saturday, May 25, when three class reunions will be held on the campus.

Fiftieth anniversary of the classes of 1893 and 1896 will be celebrated, as well as the 25th anniversary of the class of 1921. Byron Canon of Mt. Lebanon is in charge of the class of '96 plans, assisted by Dr. Lee Gilmore, recently retired superintendent of the Oakmont public schools.

Jean Parker, president of the senior class at the college, will be campus hostess for the day. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant P. Parker of Cheswick, Pa.

Deny Appeal For Convicted Slayer

WASHINGTON, May 21—(INS)—The supreme court on Monday dismissed the appeal of Lee Van Woods, convicted Chicago slayer, for review of his 99-year sentence.

The high tribunal, in a unanimous decision written by Justice Black, said it was powerless to consider the case since Van Woods had failed to take the proper legal steps in bringing his appeal.

In seeking a writ of habeas corpus from the high court, Van Woods stated that in March, 1940, Chicago policemen came to his home, accused him of murder and for four days "subjected him to mistreatment" in an effort to make him confess to the crime. He claimed that "under threat of instant death" he finally signed a confession. Van Woods said he was imprisoned for two months after his confession with no opportunity of consulting with a lawyer.

G. O. P. Leaders Awaiting Outcome Of 1946 Voting Before Presidential Plans

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A survey of Republican members of Congress discloses that the party's most influential leaders are awaiting results of the 1946 elections before entering maneuvers to name the GOP presidential nominee for 1948.

Most GOP leaders propose to sit on the sidelines this year, watching the outcome of state contests to see what some of the 1948 possibilities can do at the polls in this first postwar election.

Possibilities Face Voters
Six GOP possibilities will face the voters this fall. They are: The 1944 GOP nominee, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, a certain candidate for re-election in New York; the 1944 vice presidential nominee, John W. Bricker, who seeks a Senate seat from Ohio; Gov. Edward Martin, running for the Senate from Pennsylvania; Gov. Earl Warren, seeking re-election in California; Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, seeking re-election in Michigan; and Henry Cabot Lodge, II, seeking a return to the Senate from Massachusetts.

Former Navy Commander Harold Stassen gets tested indirectly through his campaign to defeat Sen. Henrik Shipstead in Minnesota. A victory by Shipstead would dim Stassen's 1948 chances.

Recent polls have shown the rank and file of the Republican party now favor Governor Dewey for their 1948 nominee. Stassen, recently out of the Navy, usually runs second, with Bricker third.

Polls Not Impressive
These polls do not impress congressional Republicans. The politicians believe the polls are premature and will be completely overshadowed by what actually happens at the polls in November.

Some important Republicans in Congress believe their party must nominate a great military figure two years hence to win the presidency. This group contends that the service man's vote will dominate the next presidential election. Others disagree with this viewpoint.

However, there is a widespread sentiment among GOP leaders to look over the possibilities of both Douglas MacArthur and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower before making a choice. MacArthur, who will be 68 in 1948, is expected home by then. Eisenhower, who will be 58 a month before 1948's election, already has private backing.

Soldier Possibilities
The GOP has some soldier possibilities within its political ranks. The list includes Governor Martin, veteran of two wars, who will be 67 in September, Stassen, and Lodge, to name a few.

The 1946 elections meanwhile may convince GOP leaders they do not need a professional soldier to win. This would be true if Dewey, Bricker, Warren and Vandenberg won tremendous victories. That would put a different light on the 1948 contest.

One prominent congressional Republican explained the GOP situation this way: "We are watching the 1946 results. No really influential leaders in the party have a set candidate today. We all want to see what these possibilities can do for themselves this year. Meanwhile you can't count out either MacArthur or Eisenhower. You'll have to wait a year to see any trends developing."

PLAN SHEEP DRIVE

Croton Residents To Have Social For Honor Roll Benefit

Planning For Program To Be Presented On Memorial Day At 4 P. M. At Honor Roll

Croton residents are making plans to turn out in large numbers Friday evening on the playground area of the Croton school, to attend a social being put on by a committee in charge of W. A. Hoffmaster, principal of the school, for the benefit of the Croton honor roll.

Already a committee in charge of Nick Nemo, assisted by Tony Micco, Perry Crowe, Art Prioletti, Tony Colalucia and Eddie Wright is hard at work beautifying the area surrounding the honor roll in an effort to make it the outstanding beauty spot of the city. The flag pole is being repainted with a coat of silver paint and the shrubbery and other surroundings are being put in order for the scrutiny and inspection of the citizens of the area Friday evening.

The Croton school band, under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Perdue and Mr. Hoffmaster, will be present Friday evening to participate in the program.

A program has been arranged for Memorial Day also, when the residents of the community will assemble at the honor roll at 4 o'clock to pay homage to those who gave their lives and to those who have returned from battle. The Croton band, likewise, will be on hand to assist in the program.

Will Assist In A-Bomb Operation

Sergeant Joseph H. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Martin, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, is taking part in preparations for the dropping of the atomic bomb in Bikini lagoon in the Marshall Islands in July.

Sgt. Martin, now stationed at Kwajalein as a member of the advanced echelon of Task Group 15, will be one of the photographic planes of the air photo unit. As a crew member of his ship, Sgt. Martin and his fellow-soldiers are faced with one of the greatest missions ever flown by the army air forces.

Before his assignment to Operation Crossroads, Sgt. Martin was on duty in Fort Worth, Tex. He entered the army in October, 1944.

Maj. Gen. Shannon Taken By Death

COLUMBIA, Pa., May 21.—(INS)—Arrangements for a military funeral were completed today for Maj. Gen. Edward C. Shannon, former lieutenant-governor of Pennsylvania and a regiment commander in the 28th Division during the First World War.

Shannon, who was 75, died at his home in Columbia. He had been in ill health for several years and he had been confined to his home since last Christmas eve. In 1939 the general had retired as chief of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The body will lie in state at the Columbia armory beginning at 11 a. m. Thursday and will be buried with full military honors in the afternoon at Laurel Hill cemetery.

O. P. A. OFFICIAL PLEADS GUILTY

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Chester B. Jiles, former Pittsburgh OPA official, today awaited action by Federal Judge Wallace S. Gurney on his plea of guilty to the illegal transfer of sugar ration checks and conspiracy to steal sugar ration coupons.

Jiles was former chief investigator for the Pittsburgh OPA office. He pleaded innocent to the charges May 2 when arraigned with three other OPA officials indicted by the federal grand jury on black market sugar charges.

Elm St. Y. W. C. A.

An important meeting of the Friendship club will be held in the Elm street Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening at eight o'clock, at which time an election of officers will take place and the appointment of a delegate to the summer conference.

Since international complications seem to thrive there, Zadok Dumkopt suggests they rename that section of the world the Muddle East.

Class Day on Friday, Baccalaureate Sunday For Senior High Class

Class Day on Friday and the baccalaureate Sunday evening will be the first of the major commencement activities of the graduating class of New Castle Senior High school.

Dr. J. J. McIlvaine will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Cathedral, and Roy McClendon, a graduate of the school in June, 1941, will be the soloist with the capella choir.

Graduation exercises will be held Tuesday evening, May 28, in the Cathedral, and the senior dinner dance will climax the year on Wednesday evening.

Arrest 74 Persons In Numbers Raids

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Mayor David L. Lawrence's order to police to smash Pittsburgh's number racket today had "paid off" with the seizure of 74 persons, including "Pittsburgh's Hymie" Martin, numbers baron.

Arrested in a downtown hotel room, Martin headed the list of 35 persons charged with various forms of gambling. Police said Martin, booked as a common gambler, operated in two places—a hotel suite and a downtown club.

Samuel Gottlieb, 50, of New York City, also was booked on the same charges with Martin.

The city-wide raids by police were ordered when police became convinced that the murders of two "small-time" numbers men—Frank Evans and Freddie Garrow—were committed in the East End numbers racket "gang war."

Police said Martin and Gottlieb will be denied bail pending a hearing today in police court.

Officials refused to comment on whether they had shed any light on the slaying of Evans and Garrow.

Engineers Hear Talk On Russia

Westinghouse Man Talks On Russian Industry And Shows Pictures Taken
There

BELIEVES RUSSIA WILL LAG FOR TIME

Discussing his experiences in Russia with the Freyn Engineering company, while erecting a large steel mill for the Soviets at Kuznetsk, M. J. Wohlgenuth of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation stated that he felt that Russia would not be a threat to this country industrially for a number of years to come. Mr. Wohlgenuth spoke at the dinner meeting of the Mahoning Shenango Valley Engineers society in The Castleton.

He based his conclusions on the fact that Russia lost a great amount of industrial construction during the war, and that it will take a good many years to train men to operate her industrial plants, even if these are rebuilt.

Went To Russia

Mr. Wohlgenuth went to Russia in 1930 to assist with the construction of the new steel mill at Kuznetsk in Siberia, remaining there until January, 1933. The plant was comparative in size to that of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation at Homestead, prior to the war.

In addition to erecting the plant, it was necessary to train men to operate it, and those who constructed the plant left immediately on its completion.

Iron ore found in the vicinity of the plant is of a low grade, and it is augmented with iron from the Ural mountains, which must be hauled 1,500 miles. Trains bringing in ore, haul back coal from the Kuznetsk area, this same vast distance.

Scholarship Award

Announcement of the engineering scholarship award, for which examinations were conducted Saturday under the direction of Elmer O. Delancy of the senior high school faculty, were announced. Mr. Delancy, explaining to the society members how the examination was conducted on a basis of the highest marks attained for chemistry, physics, mathematics and intelligence. There were seven contestants, and the winner was Miss Margaret Zimmerman of Ellwood City, who graduates tonight. She was the only girl competing. The scholarship amounts to $100 payable on matriculation during the year at any accredited engineering school.

Last night's meeting closed the winter season program of the society, but plans are being laid for a big picnic during the summer. President Paul G. Dinsley announced.

The speaker last evening was introduced by Edward L. Davenport of the Johnson Bronze company. In addition to his talk, Mr. Wohlgenuth showed two reels of films which were brought out of Russia by him, showing work on the steel plant, and scenes taken in Moscow where the engineers were located while drawing up the construction plans for the mill. The pictures were brought out in an ingenious manner, circumventing the Russian authorities, who forbid anyone to leave with such articles. When discovered, the Russians would destroy the usefulness of the films by exposing them to the light, and about four-fifths of all the pictures taken by Mr. Wohlgenuth were rendered useless in this manner.

General Francis Marion, Revolutionary general, was called "Swamp Fox."

Close Decision Is Anticipated On OPA Amendments

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—A close decision was anticipated as the Senate Banking and Currency committee heard a vote today on amendments to the OPA bill.

Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.), committee chairman, pressed for a decision on a de-control amendment, one of the most important facing the 20-member group.

Indications were that the administration held a narrow margin, perhaps as slim as one or two votes. Whether the margin was sufficient to vote down all restrictive amendments was problematical.

Barkley Amendment
The administration pinned its hopes chiefly on the amendment offered by Majority Leader Barkley, which was understood to have been drawn up by the OPA. It would permit a "moderate" rise in prices after the first of the year, provided the increases would not "unstable" the entire economy. If prices rose too high, controls could be re-established after a "reasonable" test period.

The Barkley amendment would direct the OPA to remove prices effective July 1 whenever supply and demand of a commodity became equal and the "general level of prices" would not rise. All commodities "not important in relation to business costs or living costs" would also be de-controlled by December 31, a proviso which would probably assure the lifting of controls on all but major products by the end of the year. The OPA would be abolished June 30, 1947.

Bill Horean Wins College Oscar For Best Performance

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21.—Oscars for the best performances in the Little Theatre productions during the 1945-46 term at Westminster College have been awarded to William Horean, ex-serviceman, of R. D. 2, New Castle, and Mary Ellen Stewart, of Utica.

Horean received the male award for his portrayal of Mercutio in "Romeo and Juliet" and Henry Abbott in "Kind Lady." Horean, a junior speech major, is also president of Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity.

Miss Stewart was praised for her roles as Juliet's nurse in the fall Shakespearean production and for her title role in "Kind Lady." Judges of the productions are Mrs. Mary McConagha, Dr. Virginia T. Everett, Prof. Walter Biberich, Dean Mary Jane Stevenson, and Miss Katherine Shattuck.

Alfred B. Nobel, founder of the Nobel prize, stipulated in his will that "no consideration whatever shall be paid to the nationality of the candidates, that is to say, that the most deserving be awarded the prize, whether of Scandinavian origin or not."

Alliance Church To Have Daily School

Resuming its annual custom for the members of the Sunday school and children of the neighborhood, the Gospel Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, 210 Pearson street, will have a Daily Vacation Bible school, to be conducted from June 17 through June 28, by Miss Ruth Blew.

Miss Blew, who is experienced in conducting these schools, announces that the sessions will open at 9 o'clock and close promptly at noon. She has secured the assistance of a number of competent workers who will man the various classes.

No classes are to be conducted on Saturday or Sunday, but the day following the closing exercises which will be conducted Friday evening, June 28, the annual Sunday school picnic of the church will take place at which time the children will attend.

Storage Workers Reject Proposal

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Negotiations were scheduled to continue today in the walkout of 300 AFL cold storage workers following the strikers' rejection of a proposal to end the strike which has closed Pittsburgh's five major cold storage warehouses.

In rejecting the proposal which included a general increase of 22 cents an hour, the union contended that a proposed staggering of work hours and elimination of overtime would amount to a reduction in "take home" pay.

Students Cramming For College Finals

NEW WILMINGTON, May 21.—Students at Westminster College are keeping pretty much to their rooms and the library this week preparing for the beginning of final examinations in all courses Friday. The exams will continue until Thursday, May 30. They will extend from 9 a.m. until 12 noon each morning and 2 to 5 p.m. in the afternoons.

Counting Upon Public Opinion To Be Aid To UN

Mrs. Roosevelt Says Aroused Public Opinion Will Pass Proposed Programs

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and other members of the United Nations economic and social commission today looked to an aroused world public opinion for aid in enforcing programs they have recommended to the U. N.

Mrs. Roosevelt, chairman of the human rights commission, warned the member nations that mere "lip service" in behalf of economic and social programs would be insufficient.

"The world," she told a news conference, "must have evidence of performance as well as promises." Mrs. Roosevelt said that methods of enforcement remain to be worked out, but, in speaking of the "right of freedom of information," she said "it may well be that public knowledge may be all the implementation you need."

Rene Cassin of France suggested that violations of human rights, such as occurred in Germany after 1933, should in the future be referred to the Security Council. Then, he said, if the council found such violations endangering peace, it could throw its full economic and military weight, if necessary, against the offending nation.

Dr. Isador Lubin, American delegate to the economic and employment commission, said:

"Until the man in the street gets excited about it, the United Nations will not realize its potentialities. We must depend upon the public opinion of the masses of the people of the world."

Would Nationalize All British Mines

House Of Commons Suggests To Lords, Nationalization Of All Coal Mines

LONDON, May 21.—(INS)—The House of Commons received from the House of Lords today a bill calling for nationalization of all British coal mines.

The measure was the first industrial nationalization move by the Labor government. It was approved by common 324 to 143 after 24 days of debate.

Emmanuel Shinwell, British fuels and power minister, said during debate that accelerated production in competition with other countries might force the government to take measures "even more drastic than this."

He suggested it might become necessary to integrate industrial activity in Britain with that in other countries.

Oyster Bay Faces Financial Problem

OYSTER BAY, L. I., May 21.—(INS)—The town board of Oyster Bay—the late Teddy Roosevelt's home town—met today to decide what to do with an unexpected million dollar windfall.

The town received a check yesterday for $1,097,479, representing its share of corporation taxes paid to the state by wartime aircraft plants in unincorporated villages within the township's vast reaches.

The town fathers had counted on only about $50,000.

Oyster Bay has had no town tax for the last four years.

MOTHERLY LOVE WINS OVER APPETITE

MRS. PAMELA BATES, London, had a few terrible moments when she visualized the fate of her three chicks, just five days old, at the hands of her pet cat, "Squibs." Mrs. Bates had put the fledglings in a basket before the fire, but she worried needlessly for the motherly instinct won out over "Squibs" flavor for poultry with the result shown above. The cat tenderly totes one of the chicks to the basket, and then to show he's 100 per cent friendly, crawls in to join the threesome. (International)

WAR HERO'S FARM DOOMED

AN OHIO FARM BOY, and winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, 27-year-old Melvin Mayfield, is on his way to Washington for a conference with President Truman during which time the veteran will express a protest for 750 farmers against the $10,000,000 Dillon dam, a major link in the Army engineers' flood control program for the Ohio river valley. It means "the loss of everything I fought for," says the three-time wounded ex-soldier, who is shown, right above, with his father, who also faces eviction from his 179-acre farm. The two are pictured at the saw mill, located on a portion of the 11,000 doomed acres, where Mayfield is cutting lumber to build a cottage for his bride of three months. (International)

Beverage Alcohol Restrictions Stay

Distillers Required To Operate On Three-Days-A-Month Basis June And July

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—The government announced today that distillers of beverage alcohol will be required to operate on a three-days-a-month basis in June and July.

The order, to conserve grains needed for shipment to famine areas abroad, continues the restrictions in effect this month.

The Agriculture department said that as in May no unused quotas of grain from preceding months may be used by the distillers in June and July. The department said:

"This means that no more than two million, 500 thousand bushels of grain may be used in either of these months."

Use of wheat and wheat products in distilling beverage alcohol will continue to be banned during the next two months.

YOUNGSTER RESCUED FROM SWAMP DEATH

CHESTER, Pa., May 21.—(INS)—A three-year-old Chester boy was recovering in Chester hospital today after nearly drowning in a swamp between Chester city line and Ed-dystown.

The boy—Alfred Lynch—was dragged from the muck of the swamp by Marty Bronstein, an Ed-dystown businessman who heard the cries of the youth's companions.

The youngsters had been playing on a raft in the swamp when Lynch fell off.

TABLES TURNED ON EXTERMINATOR

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—(INS)—Charles Henson is an exterminator and usually is the man who does the cleaning out. But today, the tables were turned.

While Henson was attending a boxing match last night, thieves carried a 150-lb. safe from the second floor bedroom of his home at 2404 Carpenter street.

The safe contained $700—and two tickets to the Joe Louis-Billy Conn fight.

English Girl Ready To Go Home After Taste Of America

Came Here As Stowaway On Liner. Met And Married Chicagoan, But 'No Soap'

CHICAGO, May 21.—(INS)—The former Josephine Judex, pretty 19-year-old British stowaway, was ready today to leave for England.

Josephine has encountered difficulty in trying to stay in America. Last January 12 Josephine and a friend, Miss Jeanne Brennen, 18, landed at Bayonne, N. J., after a stowaway voyage from Liverpool, England. They moved in with Miss Brennen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Chicago, and procured jobs in department stores.

Then immigration department inspectors caught up with them, and ordered them deported. The only loophole was marriage to an American.

Miss Brennen had come to the states to marry Melvin Deubell of Baltimore, Md.

Josephine was in for tougher sledding. She had picked no man, and refused hundreds of proposals from Americans who saw her picture in newspapers.

Runs Into Trouble

But, at the eleventh hour, love came into Josephine's life, and she married Edward Konezke, 23, of Chicago, on April 24.

Today, she said:

"I'm just not happy." Konezke explained that they had had several tiffs. They had been living with his sister until they could find a place to stay. Also, Konezke said, they had argued about Josephine's going out with other men—which he condoned because she was entitled to entertainment and he could not afford it.

Said Konezke: "I still love her."

Ellwood Drivers Lose Their Cards

Two Ellwood City motorists had their operating licenses suspended during the week ending May 10, according to the latest figures from the bureau of highway safety, Harrisburg.

One of the drivers lost his card for speeding while the other failed to yield half of the highway to another motorist.

During the period the bureau withdrew the cards of 265 drivers, of which 29 were revoked and 236 suspended. Operating privileges were restored to 245, and of this total two of the drivers were from New Castle.

Bulls And Heifers Taking Air Jaunt

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—Ten high-flying Avshire cattle today emulated the cow jumped over the moon.

Six bulls and four heifers were aboard a transport plane winging their way from New York to South America, where they will improve the herd of a dairy farmer in Colombia.

A stop was scheduled at West Palm Beach for feed and water.

FURLOUGH SUGAR FOR SERVICEMEN

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Members of the armed forces on furlough can obtain sugar rations from the Office of Price Administration. It was announced today.

Previously furloughed military personnel were issued regular sugar ration books when their leaves were for 60 days or more and were required to surrender the book upon expiration of their leave. For less than 60 days military personnel were granted furlough rations.

Yank Raiders Seize 3,000 In Danube Sortie

(BULLETIN)
FRANKFURT, May 21.—(INS)—Three thousand enemy Nationals, accused of threats to security running all the way from ordinary black-marketing to traffic in arms and dope, were seized by United States constabulary today in a dramatic wild-west raid on derelict ships in the Danube.

Four thousand military police participated in the operation, which cleaned out all persons aboard thirty dismantled Hungarian warships and 242 smaller craft of all descriptions.

The raiders blocked off 45 miles of the Danube all the way from Passau to Deggendorf and rounded up their charges.

Among the illegal acts ascribed to the prisoners was smuggling wanted SS troops into Hungary.

Security officers involved in the roundup strongly intimated that the raid resulted partially from investigation into the murder of three military government officers in Passau last January. The officers had been assigned to probe into a large-scale black market and dope-peddling ring.

Defense Still Testifying In Erie Murder Case

ERIE, Pa., May 21.—(INS)—Defense witnesses continued to take the stand today to testify in behalf of Mike Bubna and his sister, Millie Thomas, both charged with the slaying of Robert Fischer, an ex-sailor and Erie bartender.

James Nasser, brother-in-law of the defendants, told the court Fischer was not in Bubna's home at the time the state claimed the former got was murdered.

His wife, Pauline, denied that she had handled the scissors allegedly used by Mrs. Thomas to shear the victim's hair.

Both Millie and Mike were expected to take the stand on tomorrow to plead in their own defense.

Class Of 243 Seniors Will Get Diplomas In Ellwood City Tonight

Two hundred and forty-three seniors will graduate from Lincoln high school in Ellwood City this evening, with Dr. Robert P. Galbreath of Westminster college making the commencement address.

Russell E. French will give the salutatory, "The Future of the World," and Miss Priscilla Anne Sartwell will give the valedictory, "Will the New World Furnish the Silver Bullet?" A cornet solo by Michael Exposito is included on the program, while the invocation will be made by Rev. V. A. Ruth and the benediction by Rev. H. C. Jacobs.

Postal Employees Pay Boost Signed

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(INS)—President Truman signed a bill today increasing the pay of postal employees.

The president made a ceremony of the signing, using 22 pens which he gave to a group of interested persons attending the ceremony.

These included Postmaster General Robert E. Hamegan, three assistant postmaster generals and a group of leaders of labor unions of which postal employees are members.

The bill provides for salary increases for field service employees of the post office department.

The pay increase will bring an additional $400 a year to each regular employee, an additional 20 cents an hour to substitutes and an increase of 20 per cent to fourth class postmasters.

Fate Of UN To Be Decided At Meeting In Fall

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—The fate of the future of the United Nations as a world peace-preserving organization in large measure will be resolved when the 51-nation general assembly gathers here in New York next September.

Until this full-dress assemblage, still more than three months away, there is little likelihood that any of the United Nations organizations, such as the Security Council and the Social and Economic Council, will take any affirmative action.

This was today's reaction to Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' strong policy speech, as voiced by responsible spokesmen for both the states and British delegations serving on the UN Security Council.

Pickets Close More Coal Mines

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—(INS)—Pickets continued to roam the Pennsylvania coal fields today, closing more mines and cutting deeper into the production loss despite five days remaining under the United Mine Workers strike truce.

Nineteen more mines were closed by the insurgent miners, bringing the total to 69. Included in this number were 45 of the 47 steel companies captive mines, among the largest producers in the state.

Production loss fell to 48,000 tons from the 300,000 normal daily average, the Solid Fuels Administration said. Less than 15,000 of the state's 100,000 miners are working.

RARE OPERATION IS SUCCESSFUL

Man, 82, Falls From Second-Floor Window

HARRISBURG, May 21.—(INS)—Harry Hogenotzky, 82, of Harrisburg, was in the Harrisburg hospital today with a lacerated scalp and possible fractured back sustained in a fall from a second story window.

Doctors said the fact that he landed on a cellar door apparently saved him from serious injury or death.

TRIPLET GIRLS OF CARLISLE, PA.

FINALLY AT HOME

CARLISLE, Pa., May 21.—(INS)—The carleton-born triplet daughters of Lt. and Mrs. James A. Henry of Carlisle rolled in their cribs at home today after two months of observation in the Carlisle hospital. Physicians said the babies had doubled their weight, the lightest tipping the scales at nine pounds. They were born March 14.

The trio—Carole Lynn, Mary Alice and June Christina—were the first threesome brought by the stock to the quiet college town in 20 years.

Their father is awaiting separation from the army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

SALVATION ARMY VACATION SCHOOL

TO START JUNE 3

Salvation Army daily vacation Bible school will begin Monday morning, June 3, and last through June 14. Captain Thelma Dunden said today.

This year's classes will be from 10 o'clock until 12 Monday through Friday, and will include all kinds of craft work. Youngsters from three years to sixteen may attend.

MAN STRUCK BY AUTO

Michael Angelo, aged 28 years, of R. D. 1, Edenburg, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, at 5:45 p. m., Monday, for injuries received when he was struck while crossing the road near his home. He received contusions and abrasions of the left hip, and abrasions of the face.

INJURED IN CRASH

William Barber, aged 19 years, of 512 West Park Way, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 12:20 o'clock this morning, for a laceration of the scalp, and contusions of the left hand and knee, received in an automobile accident.

A method was developed in 1945 for making wide-strips of thin, flexible glass which can be used instead of mica for most purposes.

DiMaggio Not Worrying Type

Great Joe Is Not Hitting, But He Refuses To Let It Bother Him

CHICAGO, May 21.—(INS)—Everybody is worried about Joe DiMaggio's slump—with the one notable exception of Joe DiMaggio.

The typewriter-Smiths have pounced on "the greatest of them all," the New York Yankees' pride and joy is hitting 'em down in the dirt and in the air. The man in the street is worried; DiMaggio ain't a-hitting the way DiMaggio should, Joe's teammates shake their heads, Joe is in a slump.

Joe's Not Worried
And here's what the smiling, black-haired performer has to say: "Listen, I was a ballplayer before the war and I'm still a ballplayer. We had American league races before and we're having another one now. The season's just one month old and already they're worried whether I'll last in the majors."

Joe had just returned from Comiskey park where Charlie Keller's two-run homer had helped subdue the White Sox on behalf of the Yanks, 4-2. He stretched his little frame out on the bed in his hotel room and went on:

"Sure, I know, the script says that I'm supposed to hit the home runs. If I don't hit homers, I'm in a slump. If I just don't hit, the papers start saying, 'poor Joe, he's in a slump and there's nothing he can do about it.'"

I'll Wear Off
The great DiMaggio grinned and shook his head, as if bemoaning the awful fate that had beset him. He said:

"Well, I know I'm not doing as well as I can. But the point is this... It's early in the season yet, and as often as not these things ride themselves out. That's why I'm not worried. If I'm still no good come mid-season, then I'm going to worry and worry plenty."

Meanwhile, Joe avows, he will let the papers do his worrying for him. In a slump, yes. But still battling cleanup in the New York Yankee lineup. And, speaking of worrying, would anybody like to pitch to DiMaggio?

Yankees Strive To Halt Raiding By Mexican Loop

Judge Sets May 28 As Date For Suit To Make Injunction Permanent

NEW YORK, May 21.—(INS)—The New York Yankees baseball club today won its fight for continuance of a temporary injunction barring the Mexican league from raiding the roster of star players.

Justice Julius Miller, in a five-page decision handed down in supreme court, set 28 for trial of the suit to make the injunction permanent.

The jurist said: "On the papers now before the court, there is ample evidence that Bernardo Pasquel, vice president and the Mexican league, have attempted, and in all probability will, unless injunctive relief is granted, continue to attempt to entice away the Yankee players."

The jurist held that the players were voluntarily living up to their agreement with the ball club unless "strangers" tried to induce them to breach the contracts.

A 27-year-old ex-serviceman, Cliff Sullivan of Spring Valley, N. Y., is the scoring leader of the Penn State lacrosse team. "Wild Bill" Hollenbach of Allentown, another ex-serviceman and goalie on the team, also is 27 years old.

Penn State's boxing coach, Leo Houck, is confident schoolboy boxing will thrive in Pennsylvania under the leadership of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Penn State's 1946 football progress will depend pretty largely on the number of pre-war stars who return to the campus next fall. Coach Bob Higgins said today.

Minor Grid League Is Now Possibility

All-America Grid Conference Ready To Sponsor Strong Minor Eight-Team League

CHICAGO, May 21.—(INS)—The insurgent All-America Football Conference was ready and willing today to sponsor the strongest minor league in professional grid history.

All the big timers need is the consent of the minor leagues. In this case the American Baseball Association. And if all goes according to Hoyle they will get it.

The plan, as first announced by Sam Goldfano, general manager of the Buffalo franchise in the A.A.F.C. ten days ago, is both simple and powerful. The American Association, a triple-A baseball wheel whose sphere encompasses St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Toledo, Columbus, Kansas City, Louisville and Indianapolis, is fertile football territory.

The All-America Conference (which is to be remembered as the league which has never played a game) has seen a splendid chance to accomplish any number of neat tricks with an "American Football Association", which would boast franchises in the eight cities named above.

Food Campaign Has Slow Start In This County

Public Asked To Use Store
Receptacles To Speed Collections In Drive

One week of the Emergency Food
Collection drive for Lawrence County has ended.

Realizing that much of the week
was spent in administrative organization, such as the appointment of committees, collection of cartons, etc., the first tabulation of the effort is not up to the average that must be maintained.

Between 6,000 and 7,000 tins of food have been donated to the campaign thus far, while the cash contributions have been very small. It is the hope of the drive officials to raise 85,000 tins of food or their equivalent in money during the next two weeks. The campaign chairman, Austin A. Webb, said today that cash sent into the drive will be converted into tins of food at the average price of 15 cents per can, figuratively speaking. Actually wholesale purchases of food will be accomplished for much less.

Store Receptacles
Canvass of the grocery stores of the city is in the last stages and soon every shopper will be able to drop his canned foods in the bins marked "Emergency Food Collection."

This is the simplest way to make your contribution to this cause.
There is no need to carry your food to the headquarters itself, just place
the tins in the boxes. Your grocer will aid you in selecting the preferred foodstuffs.

Cash contributions, just as desirable, if not more so than the cans themselves, may be made by addressing a check to the Emergency Food Collection, care of Richard E.
Rantz, The News company, N. Mercer street.

The drive will end early in June.
Give now, of food and money, so that others may live.

Indians who worked in a recent motion picture filmed at Jackson Hole, Wyo., took their fancy costumes along with them, but didn't get a chance to use them.

CHECK AND ORDER NEEDED CANNING EQUIPMENT NOW

Homemakers, what is the condition of your canning equipment?
Do you have all the jars, lids, rubber rings and other equipment you'll need this year? If not, you'd be wise to buy your necessities right now.

By purchasing now what you'll need, manufacturers can estimate how much to make this year. They have kept us well supplied in previous war years and want to do the same thing this year.

Before buying any new supplies,
check the old to see what is on hand.
You'll also be making good use of your time if this checking is done before the busy canning season starts, advises Miss McClain.

First check the condition of the jars and lids you already have. Examine them for cracks, nicks or chips. If damaged in any way you can use them for pickles, jams, jellies, dried or salted foods. For canning use only perfect jars, lids and new rubber rings.

As you check the canning equipment, jot down on a piece of paper
the number of new jars, the number of lids and the number of rubber rings you'll need. Place your order as soon as possible so you'll be ready for the 1946 canning season.

More than 8,000 Gloucester seamen have perished at the oars of dories swept out of sight of parent fishing schooners since 1830.

the only cream containing ACTIVOL

For nine long year now, thousands of women nearing middle life have been writing us grateful statements like the above about the results of using ENDOCREME. It is evidence like this that enables us to say to you that, in our opinion, ENDOCREME has no equal in the way it helps many women to regain firmness, freshness, enchanting youthful loveliness of appearance for the skin of face and throat.
ENDOCREME contains ACTIVOL, an effective replacement for woman's own natural, skin-beautifying substance. Absorbed by the skin, it helps restore normal growth to ageing cells and tissues.

Ask for and insist upon ENDO-CREME. Many report marked results in only 30 days.

Also, try the new ENDOCREME
Hand Lotion.
